

Adriatic Maritime Institute

Community Boat Building Workshop

The Adriatic Maritime Institute aims to preserve intangible maritime heritage by using traditional vessels as a platform for youth development through themed expeditions and boat building projects in Croatia and the Balkan Region. Our Community Boat Building Workshops pair older generation builders, sailors and Fishermen with youth from homes for children without parents. Using this multi-age framework, our staff serve to facilitate programs and support learning between older and younger generations thereby helping to transfer knowledge and preserve method, skill, and work ethic to our students.
